Case Study Practice

Case Study - Exercise

Welcome to the general analysis case study practice!

This exercise presents the story of a fictional company, Lighthouse Publishing Plc. Your task is to provide a general analysis of the company's financial and business situation.

Make sure you have paper and pen ready. You may use a calculator in this exercise.

You can either work on the exercise on the computer or choose to print out the files. If you know how the real test will be administered, you should practice this exercise under the same conditions.

Follow the instructions at the beginning and complete the test within the specified time limit (45 minutes). We highly recommend that you avoid any distractions and don't take breaks during the exercise.

We wish you good luck and enjoyable practice!

Dear [Mr./Mrs./Ms.] [Hiring Manager's Name],

I'm excited to be writing to you regarding the business analyst position advertised on [Website's Name]. With over 5 years of experience supporting business solution software and analyzing business operations, I believe that I am a perfect fit for this role.

As part of my current role as a business analyst at TELCO, I analyze client's business requirements and processes through document analysis, interviews, workshops, and workflow analysis. Using my knowledge of SQL, I further support our clients systems by conducting 5+ levels of testing including functional, regression, user acceptance, integration and performance. During my tenure with TELCO I have gained valuable knowledge of customer service, EDI standards, and risk analysis.

Among my peers, I am regarded as an analytical whiz with expert problem-solving skills. Furthermore, I have a proven track record of translating stakeholder requirements into tangible deliverables that exceed expectations.

My resume is enclosed, and will give you further insight into my skill sets, accomplishments, and experience in this sector. I look forward to discussing my application with you further. I appreciate your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]

WHAT IS A CASE STUDY? A case study is your concise and well-reasoned argument, that talks about the why, how, where, and who, that convinces the audience for your research. Think of it as a solution, to a well-defined question asked to you. Should the company expand in this market? Should we launch this product? What is the reason for our reduced sales? Why are you the best person for the clienteAAAs project offering? All these questions are backed by immaculate case study presentations. This begs the question, when should one do a case study analysis. Some of the scenarios where case studies become necessary are eAAÁ Convincing clients of the benefits of your services and capabilities. Analyzing and presenting solutions to internal issues for a company. Offering real-life examples to back your arguments. Systematic discussion on the viability of an idea, with respect to the effect on the firm (client or self). The task here is not only to find a solution but also to influence the audience with your findings. Organizing a lot of information in a succinct and engaging manner for your clients and stakeholders is important. Hence, is a need for an excellent case study presentation template. LeteAAAs see how to make a well-structured case study template, to wow your audience. FEATURES OF EFFECTIVE CASE STUDY DESIGNS A good case study design should/should be: Brief and highlight the essentials Clear and concise Describe your vision clearly Demonstrate the value and benefit the project brings to business or client Consistent in style EFFECTIVE STRUCTURE OF WINNING CASE STUDIES Before we jump into case study examples, leteAAAs understand the effective structure of a case study. A good case study design can be generally structured in the following sections. Executive Summary / Challenge / Key Highlights: This section provides a succinct and effective summary Company leaders to pass through quickly, and get the gist of Clé who wants to highlight. Declaration of the problem: This section of the case analysis model specifies the purpose of analysis. This brings together all the problems you intend to respond through your case study. Idea Description: This section is the heart of your case study. It is where the solution is detailed, explaining the reasoning, and describing because the solution is the best to follow. Financial impact/results: here is where the administration will be convinced that your idea is worth consideration. It is necessary to explain to the public that it is being proposed, it has a significant impact on their business or project. Or something like that á Ć "Like customers who have used your solution, services or products have benefited financially. Execution: In this final section of the case studio model, there is discussion of all planning, considerations, risks and metrics that you need to perform your solution. Or how you conducted the action steps for your customers to achieve the desired results. What were the problems and risks and how did you mitigate them? A well -structured study of cases can exponentially increase the probabilities of convincing your customers. Let's take a look at some presentation models of the study case, and check what it goes to create them. We will also talk about some of the details and more subtle advice for the creation of study models wonderful case. Tips and better examples of cases study key points it is important to highlight the key takeaway in your study, throughout your case study. During the choice or design of the model, it is necessary to make sure that each section has quite potential to show the key takeaway, which is your most strong topic, in prominence.
